Customer:

Users able to request medical appointments
Medical professional related

Background:

The application is focused both for everyone on the user side, the administrative part of this application focuses on clinics or hospitals, places where medical appointments can be made.

The application can manage medical appointments between user and medical personnel, in this way we can automate this process, facilitating the user who requests medical appointments. The application menu can manage users and scheduled appointments, also all appointments scheduled in the System must be saved in one database whether this is a database of Mongo DB or another type.
